We Want to Publish Your Suspense Novel!
We want to pay you money for your thoughts! My name is Nicholas Black and together with the team over at Surreal.Media we have published over 80 books for various authors including myself.

They have helped me create three bestsellers and launch me in ways I would never have imagined. They want to do that for any Author who feels his work is ready to show the world! And that legitimately means ANY AUTHOR! Yes, that means you. Being the author of the book is a very interesting process, from the concept of your book, through the trials and tribulations of writing it, and finally to that fateful publishing day when your book is available to the world. Sure, theres a lot of steps along the way that include proofreading, editing, numerous notes and outlines and re-edits But the process is important and you learn every step along the way. And we want to publish your book! This isnt a scam, its no gimmick. There are tons of writers out there who might write short stories, poems, adventures, monologues, nightmares, thrillers, erotica And a ton of other less well-known genres and writing styles. We want all of it. Let me be as clear as possible, the team at Surreal Media wants to publish your book. Whether it is 10 pages, or thousand pages, we are going to help you get your book ready for publication, publisher, promote it, and help you make some money. The only thing stopping you is completing your book. And if youve got a book, or poetry, or thoughts that you have strung together Lets get it published. In the following couple of chapters were going to give you some advice on finishing up your project, and it will be time to contact us. We will give you a very simple way to prepare your material and send it to us. Email simplifies all of these processes, and with most authors (if your material has already been proofread and edited) we will have you published in less than seven days. And that includes getting a cover design for your book and all of that stuff. You don't pay us any fees. You don't send us a dime. We are going to publish your material as long as it is not hateful, harmful, discriminatory, or racist. We definitely believe in freedom of speech, but since we choose who we are going to publish we are not going to promote material that is hurtful to any people, groups, or individuals. We are going to pay you for your efforts. You will have both a Kindle version of your book as well as a paperback, which we will create. If you feel like having author copies delivered to you we can also facilitate that especially if you are on the speaking circuit and you need books to take to book signings. We are a small publisher, but all of our team are made up of authors, so we understand the business from an independent perspective as good as anyone. Can we guarantee that your book is a phenomenal success? Well, we certainly hope so, but the reality is that books take on a life of their own. The book Fifty Shades of Grey was passed on by publishers merely 50 times before somebody took a chance and had the book published. We guarantee you this: if you have done the work to write, we will do the work to get you published. So join us on this adventure, and let's get your book out to the world!
