

Plots in the Pantry

Plots in the Pantry is a collaborative effort of Vancouver Island writers whose genres are wide-ranging, from science fiction to cookbooks. What they do have in common, however, is a love of writing, the beautiful part of the world they live in, and a love of Christmas. What follows are eight Christmas stories, and eight Christmas recipes that refer somehow to food mentioned in the accompanying story. The stories take us from Nanaimo to El Salvador, the wilderness to the big city, 1926 to 2025, and feature characters from young to old, providing truly family reading. Plots in the Pantry can be found both as an ebook and a paperback on Amazon (www.amazon.com), the Writing in Progress website (www.wipqb.com) as well as at each of the participating authors websites. There is contact info for each author at the back of the book. Thanks for reading and we hope you enjoy our work!
